

Vanessa Garcia
Phyllis Salsedo
RDG 091 College Preparatory Reading
Section 12329

Project Read Aloud Log

Partner First Name: Chantalle

Session #1

Date: July 11, 2011

Time: 12:00 p.m.

Number of minutes you read: 40

What you read: Twenty-Three Tales by Tolstoy

How did the session go for you both?

We pursued knowledge and understanding in this session. I helped her understand the main ideas, new vocabulary, and had a great time reading a fun story. I started our process by reading a paragraph and then pausing to ask Chantalle if she understands the main point. She did understand the main point of the paragraphs and then we would talk about it.

We came across on several unfamiliar words. First we tried to figure out the meaning by going over the sentence and the paragraph. Once we got the minor hint of what the word meant, we looked for it on a dictionary for a correct definition. It went well, Chantalle and I are very interested in the story and we cannot wait for session #2.