

Vanessa Garcia
Phyllis Salsedo
RDG 091 College Preparatory Reading
Section 12329
Project Read Aloud Log

Session #3

Date: July 13, 2011

Time: 3:00 p.m.

Number of minutes you read: 30

What you read: The Monkey's Paw by W.W. Jacob

How did the session go for you both?

This session went well but the dialogue in this story was a bit different. I would read a sentence, stop, and ask Chantalle if she understood what the author was talking about. At most times she did not understand and I would have to read it over and explain to her what the sentence was about. After a few paragraphs I would have Chantalle write down a summary on what I just read.

We talked about the main idea in the previous session so I had her write about the main idea in her summary. This helped her learn about looking for the main facts in a story and how to summarize them. I feel like Chantalle is improving on understanding what a main idea is and how to find it. Just like the previous sessions we did look up unfamiliar words.